Continuous Learning Recommendations

Skill Development: Evolve from an analyst to a strategist by creating robust, data-driven plans that a real business unit could follow, showing you can think through execution and risk.	Suggested Learning Areas: Develop a more detailed financial model in a spreadsheet, clearly documenting all your assumptions. Draft a multi-channel Go-To-Market plan for your project.
Mentorship/Networking: Connect with professionals in specialized roles (e.g., marketing, finance, risk) within the banking sector. Ask for their expert opinion on specific parts of your plan, such as your customer acquisition strategy.	Suggested Actions: Review three different financial model templates online to understand their structure. Subscribe to one industry newsletter and read it for a week, and watch one recorded webinar about digital banking trends.
